Dear Honourable Martin Glenn.

My Name is Mr Domenico Ricciardi, I was a Celsius customer, with a substantial claim, I have been desperately waiting to hear about how much would be returned to me through the proceedings, but still have not had the correct information.

I am very concerned that I received a very complicated form many months ago and in that form which I did not understand it asked me, I think in error I was placed in convenience class which returns me a much lower return, I have been desperately trying to contact customer support, I am need of as much as my funds as possible and I am worried just by ticking an incorrect box that I am going to get much lower, I did not get legal advice as I should have done because the form was so complicated, but I could not afford any legal advice.

I ask you if possible that I just want to get as much as my funds back as possible. And not be placed in any special class please.

I understand that this is a very small thing as I am sure you have many hundreds of letters, but this is extremely important to me as it's a lot of money and most of my life savings.

I do hope this letter makes sense to you, and respectfully ask for your help.

Thank you your honour.

Best wishes Mr Domenico Ricciardi
